great deal, and to me, for the state to get involved, I think we need to be very careful on. Now, I will indicate at this point in time that I've had a lot of people, since we had this debate and this discussion last year, visit with me about this particular issue. I'm...at this stage of the session, with an amendment on a bill that has to pass, maybe it's germane, I think you could make an argument that it isn't. I think it's also quite apparent from other activities that are going on that at this stage that it wouldn't be, I don't believe, very difficult to make this difficult to be adopted. I've decided that I'm not going to stand in the way of having this Affordable Housing Trust Fund be funded by General Fund tax dollars. I will indicate that I'm not always right. I don't have all the solutions and all the answers. There are a number of people in my community who I trust their judgment that feels that this may be of help or benefit to them. So with that, I guess I'm willing to let it have its chance to see if it, in fact, can be a positive attribute that those that are promoting it would like to see it to be. I also hope that Senator Wesely is sincere when he looks at, or when he states that this will, in fact, be looked at in a couple of years as to whether or not these funds produce the results and the objectives that have been put forth by the many different individuals and groups that feel that this is an important step for the state to take at this point in time. Given that, I'm going to support the amendment. I'm going to try to keep an eye on this proposal along with some other issues that we all like to keep a handle on. This is something that I hope that as we all allocate these resources that we recognize that the state's budget is not a limitless wealth and that at some point in time we're going to have to make some decisions as to what our real true priorities are and, instead of always just adding another program at another cost, we will, in fact, look at adding another program and it being a high enough priority that we will take something else off the table as a result. The budget's going to...discussion's going to start Thursday. We're going to have, I think, some good discussions on the budget and what our priorities ought to be for the coming years, what level of spending should...should be...and is appropriate for the state in the coming two years and in the future. I just hope everyone recognizes that we're adding a new program. New programs tend to grow. I hope this has the benefits that it's supposed to. With that, I'll sit
